SEAT SALE CONTINUES GOOD

About 300 Places Reserved for Single Admissions in Best Locations.

Seat sales for the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra were not so large yesterday as were anticipated, but the demand was good and satisfactory. P. O. Landon, manager, said this morning that he was hopeful of reaching his goal in season tickets, which is 400.

The statement yesterday that only a small number of seats are reserved for single admissions was erroneous. Two large sections in the balcony and two sections in the main auditorium are being held for the single admission tickets. In all from 250 to 300 seats will be reserved for this purpose.

NOT IN TRENCH YET

FRANK PERRY STILL IN BRITISH TRAINING CAMP.

IN HOSPITAL 2 MONTHS

Maryville Man Disappointed at Not Getting Commission as Harness Maker for Company.

Frank Perry, the Maryville man in the British army, has not been sent to the front yet. He is still in the training camps of England, according to his weekly letters to his wife, who lives at 322 South Main street.

Companies are being called out every day at this time of the year, however, and Mr. Perry is expecting active service in the trenches any week. He is at Hampshire, about thirty miles out from London. The Maryville man enlisted last August for one year at Calgary, Canada, where he had gone as a leather salesman.

After two months in the fort there in training, he was transferred to England, where he has since been at Hampshire in more active preparation for warfare. Censorship makes the giving of many details impossible, but Mr. Perry says in his letters that he has had much trench digging to do and many things to learn about the latest methods in underground fighting.

The severe conditions of standing in water and other hardships brought on an illness and he was in the military hospital at Hampshire for two months undergoing an operation. He has been very disappointed also at not getting an assignment as harness maker for his company as he had expected, because of his trade in civilian life.

He has not given up hope, however, as it is believed now that his physical condition would make active service inadvisable. He has also begun to look forward to the middle of August, when his year's term of enlistment expires, and at which time he expects to return to Maryville.

STATE G. O. P. THURSDAY

NODAWAY DELEGATES LEAVE TOMORROW.

Hadley Will Be Prominent Figure at Convention as Candidate and Leader.

The Nodaway county delegation to the Republican state convention at Excelsior Springs, which will be held on Thursday, will leave in the morning for St. Joseph, where they will join the Buchanan county delegation to that place. Will F. Phares, H. F. Leet, Fred Hull, E. C. Curfman, J. S. Shinabargar and W. R. Tilson will probably go from this city. The delegates over the county are Sherman Montgomery, Willis Oxley, L. G. Staples, Fred Newlon, T. A. Turnbull, Willard Carpenter, M. A. Sewell and Lincoln Ballard.

Former Governor Hadley, who returned to Kansas City Monday from an absence of several months in New Mexico for his health, will be a prominent figure at the convention. Hadley is backing Jesse A. Tolerton for national committeeman against Thomas K. Niedringhaus and J. L. Babler, chairman of the Republican state committee.

If Hadley should openly put forward Tolerton for national committeeman, the Republican leaders threaten to start a fight on Hadley at the national convention against his candidacy for vice president, and to use their influence to prevent his being placed on any of the important convention committees.

MCCLURG AND COE ELECTED

New Directors of 102 River Drainage Board—Craig, President and McClurg, Secretary.

H. H. McClurg was elected to succeed himself as a director of the 102 river drainage district board. Dr. C. H. Coe succeeded Ernest Wray as the other director elected yesterday. Anderson Craig was elected president and H. H. McClurg secretary in the reorganization of the new board.

An innovation was made in the affairs of the district when it was voted to pay the commissioners $2.50 a day for all time really spent. Heretofore such work has been voluntary.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Hayzlett and children returned this week to Graham, where they will again make their home. Three years ago they moved to South Missouri, but have decided that Nodaway cannot be beat.

TOWNSHIP LAND UP

EQUALIZATION BOARD RAISES ASSESSMENTS 5 PER CENT.

NO ACTION ON REQUEST

State Auditor Gordon Wants All Cattle 20 Per Cent Higher—Sessions Continue.

All country real estate in Atchison township was raised 5 per cent by Judges W. M. Blackford, E. T. Bailey and Matt Farnan, sitting with Sheriff Ed Wallace and County Engineer J. E. Reese as a board of equalization. The reason given was that the assessment did not come up to the average.

Other Atchison township changes were: John F. Pence, 52 acres, $1,250 to $1,000; 80 acres, $1,250 up to $1,400; and Knox Alexander $800 up to $1,400. No action was taken today on the request of State Auditor Gordon that all cattle in the state be raised in assessments 20 per cent. The cattle now average about $15 a head.

Large Raises in Independence.

This afternoon the assessment on mules was raised 15 per cent, 10 per cent on horses, 10 per cent on cattle and 12½ per cent on real estate in Independence township. Green township country real estate was raised 5 per cent and horses and mules 20 per cent. Country real estate in Grant township was raised 5 per cent.

Other individual changes in assessments by the equalization board were: W. G. Wilson in Hughes township, three blocks in Graham, from $1,800 to $500; A. E. Pence, in Atchison, on 40 acres, $800 to $1,400.

J. B. and W. S. Saunders received the lowering of assessments on land in Polk township, 35 acres, $600 to $500; 80 acres, $1,500 to $1,150; 80 acres, $1,600 to $1,250; 40 acres, $800 to $650; 15 acres, $250 to $200.

Other lowering of assessments were: Mary A. Growney in Jefferson township, 80 acres, $1,600 to $1,300; S. S. Brown, lot in Hopkins, $300 to $200; Ed Spangler in Lincoln township 36 acres, $700 to $500.

GOT FAME TOGETHER

MINNEAPOLIS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA BUILT BY OBERHOFFER.

UNKNOWN 13 YEARS AGO

Genius and Enthusiasm of Conductor Has Made City and Company Noted.

The fame of some musical organization rests upon the work accomplished by a specially gifted conductor; again the reputation of some conductors rests upon the fame of the organization they had the good fortune to be called upon to conduct (as in the case of two well known eastern orchestras), and again there is the case of a famous name descending from a distinguished father to a son, but only in one case, in this country, has the fame of the conductor and the orchestra grown to its present status along such absolutely parallel lines as is the case with Emil Oberhoffer and the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, who are to appear here at the music festival April 13-14.

Thirteen years ago Emil Oberhoffer was not generally known outside of the confines of Minneapolis and St. Paul, though in both cities his ability as a conductor of the Philharmonic club, an oratorio-giving organization, was well recognized. Twelve years ago, through Mr. Oberhoffer's energy and enthusiasm, the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra was organized, and through his consistent and capable directorship the organization has developed to one of the greatest in the country, while Mr. Oberhoffer has become an international figure. The press from New York to Denver has done full justice to both the man and the orchestra.

He is a musician of broad and unprejudiced views. Although he has his favorites among the great composers, his season's programs fail to indicate it, as the music of all schools and periods finds a well balanced representation.

American composers, especially, receive excellent treatment at his hands. "All I ask," said Mr. Oberhoffer in a recent interview, "is that a composition shall have real merit, regardless of the nationality of the composer."

FIRST GAME FRIDAY

NORMAL MEETS CONCEPTION COLLEGE HERE.

HAD B. B. ASSEMBLY TODAY

Coach and Players Make Speeches and Entertain Students This Morning.

The student organization had charge of the Normal assembly this morning, and it was some program, too. Prof. Osburn, chairman of the faculty committee on assembly programs, on the strength of a base ball story regarding some one getting a hit that brought five men across the plate, turned the meeting over to Lowell Livengood, president of the student organization.

The program was of the nature of a boost for the base ball season, which opens Friday, with Conception college on the Normal grounds. Speeches were made by Wakeman, Wagers and Leech. Then the Eurekan Literary society male quartet sang "Base Ball Shine Today," and such an expression came over the faces of the students that the quartet sang it three times, which made three verses, before receiving the glad hands.

Then Coach Palfreyman, as a clown, put on a base ball demonstration of the fine points of the game, which was as entertaining to the student body as to his proteges. After which the different organizations of the school each subscribed for fifty base ball tickets.

The weather has been fine and Coach Palfreyman has been putting the team through a stiff practice. The status of the Conception college team is unknown, but the Normal expects the long end of the score. The lineup will be picked from the following: Pitchers, Wakeman and Wood Adams; catchers, Hickman and Sawyers; infield, Tilson, Leech, "Dirty" Miller, Chido Scott, Wagers and Powell; outfield, Vandersloot, Mercer, Goose Wilson, Girard, Scarlett, DeMoss and Heifner.

CHASE AT NOON THRILLS

JOHN TEETERS ACCUSED OF TAKING ZOOK'S SHOES.

Officers and Owner in Car Pursue Young Man Who Takes to Back Yards—In Jail Now.

John Teeters is in the county jail, charged with petit larceny, in the matter of stealing a pair of shoes, after having given the west part of Maryville a regular "slapstick" comedy chase, in which the city marshal fired one shot.

J. F. Zook, who works at the Star barn, missed a pair of shoes out of the office. Going across the street he told Steve Viles, night policeman. Viles said that he remembered Teeters coming across the street with a pair of shoes under his arm. Zook saw Teeters a little later with the shoes on, and when he approached him Teeters ran.

The accused man is a young fellow and easily left Mr. Zook behind. When the owner of the shoes arrived on Main street, he met City Marshal Tilton and told his troubles. They jumped in the car of Charles Jensen, who was passing. Going west on Fourth street they saw the pursued cutting through an alley.

The chase lasted for five or more blocks during the noon hour, to the great excitement of school children who were on their way home. Chief Tilton fired into the air once to frighten Teeters. He was completely exhausted finally, and was captured near the Wabash freight depot after scaling back fences by the dozen. He is in jail to await a hearing.

FOR PASSION WEEK

SPECIAL SERMONS EACH NIGHT AT FIRST M. E.

ENDING WITH CANTATA

"Tragedy and Triumph of Cross" General Topic of the Rev. G. S. Cox for Series.

The First Methodist church will observe Passion Week, April 16-23, as usual, with a series of meetings each night during the week. These have been held each year just before Easter since the Rev. G. S. Cox became pastor.

Mr. Cox made the subjects for the week public today. The general topic of the week will be "The Tragedy and Triumph of the Cross," and will be made more evangelistic in nature than meetings of the week in other years. Special music in keeping with the subject will be given.

"The Tragedy" will be given Sunday morning, April 16. "Indifference," with particular reference to the Romans, will be the evening subject that day. Monday night Mr. Cox will speak on "Unbelief" and the hardness of heart among the Jews. "Neutrality" and Pilate's guilt will be discussed Tuesday.

The subject Wednesday night of the week will be "Hostility," with attention directed to the sin of Judas. The brighter side of the crucifixion is taken up Thursday night with the topic "Belief," with a discussion of the effect of Christ's death upon the soldiers around the cross. "Sympathy," as exemplified by John and the women will be the topic Friday night.

There will be no service Saturday night. Sunday morning the climax of the series of sermons will be reached in an exposition of the "Triumph of the Cross." The choir of thirty voices will give a sacred cantata, "Bethany," at the evening service of Easter Sunday. This is a very elaborate cantata and in many ways close to an oratorio.

FOKKER'S AIRCRAFT MUCH DISCUSSED

Inventor of German Aeroplane Is a Dutchman.

CAUSES DISMAY TO ENEMY.

At First Youth's Monoplane Received Little Indorsement In Germany—England Also Rejected Invention—Has Played Prominent Part In War and Created Havoc In Britain and France.

Berlin.—Mijnheer Fokker, the inventor of the monoplane which has created havoc and consternation in Great Britain and France, is a native of Holland and is said to be not more than twenty-three or twenty-four years old. He has spent the greater part of his life in Germany, but would appear to be thoroughly familiar with the French flying machines.

The appearance of the Fokker is almost identical with that of the French Morane monoplane, which was often used by Gustave Hamel and which was used by Brock in England in the early part of 1914 in winning the race from Hendon to Manchester and back, while the rotary engines of the Fokker are declared to be German copies of the French Gnome, though claimed to be the Mercedes engine of 200 horsepower.

The bullet proof deviators attached to the blades of the Fokker, rendering the machine almost immune from the fire of the enemy, are said by the French to be the invention of one of their fliers, Garros, who was captured by the Germans in Flanders only a few months ago.

Fokker, apparently the guiding genius in German monoplane activity, had this bullet proof device on his machines which first attracted the attention of his adversaries last December. During that month he and his assistants brought down sixteen British aeroplanes without damage to their own machines. The French loss is believed to have been fully as large, although statistics in this as in all French casualties have been withheld from the public.

The chief value of the Fokker is its speed, this being over a hundred miles an hour and exceeding by twenty-five or thirty miles an hour anything which the British or the French monoplanes can accomplish, and Fokker himself seems to be responsible for this unique feature of his machine. The gun is stationary. The flier has only to steer the monoplane.

In action the Fokker rises swiftly to a great height, 1,500 feet or more and above the air craft of the British and French, and there it awaits the appearance below of the enemy. Then it stands on its head and dives, sending down a stream of bullets which forms a cone, at the apex of which is its own gun. The cylinder covers every inch of the victim's immediate area of escape. Two men operate the steering gear, and a passenger is apt to be found in front working a machine gun in those cases when the Fokker is able to take range directly behind its enemy, aiming then along a straight line which covers the enemy's pilot, engine and tanks, destroying or injuring everything in one fusillade.

About five years ago Fokker made his appearance in the German flying corps, and his first monoplane was received with such small enthusiasm there that the invention was offered to the British government. Some English experts examined it, recommended it as being uncapsizable, but so badly constructed that it made the flier's life anything but secure. They therefore declined to recommend its purchase by Britain.

Nothing more was heard of Fokker except in a general way until his formidable new monoplanes entered the field last December.

BURLINGTON
Newfashioned Hosiery
"Made to fit from the toe up"

How natural it is that a stocking should be knitted the way it is to be put on and worn—from the toe up.

Yet it remained for the inventors of the machines which make Burlington Newfashioned Hosiery to realize this.

Burlington Newfashioned Hosiery is knitted from the tip of the toe—the automatic machine begins there—it shapes the foot, it knits the double toe, sole and heel, it enforces the back of the heel, so that the counter of the shoe will not cut the stocking.

It shapes the ankle and the leg—just as you put your stocking on—

It knits a double top, so that the garter clasps will not cut through or pull the stocking out of shape—

And with every step in the process it has been shaping and fashioning the stocking exactly as you shape and fashion one when you pull it on.

Burlington Newfashioned is made without seams.

And because of the automatic way in which it is made, and the consequent saving in cost of manufacture, Burlington Newfashioned Hosiery is offered you at the price of greatly inferior stockings.

Buy a pair of Burlington Newfashioned Hose and you will never be content with any other kind.

Why Missouri Needs A New Constitution

6. Great changes in economic and social life have been made imperative many reforms in social and industrial relations. Our old constitution was framed more than forty years ago, at a time when these changes were not anticipated. In most instances these reforms are blocked by provisions in the old constitution which are interpreted by the courts in the light of mediaeval rather than modern conditions. A new constitution is needed to make certain the power of the legislature to make these reforms possible. (To be continued, one reason daily.)

Miss Catherine Merrill, who a good many years ago held the chair of English literature in Butler college, was much beloved by every one for her amiability of character, her courtesy and her childlike simplicity. In class one day the question of slang and its usage was under discussion.

"Give an example of slang, please," Miss Merrill requested of a young man of the class. His reply was prompt and blunt. "I don't have to!" he said. The teacher, shocked and flushing, gazed at him amazed.

"What do you mean, sir? You do have to," she declared indignantly, and not until the whole class roared did she suspect that she was a mere novice in the matter of slang.—Indianapolis News.

Putting Him In His Place.

John Morrison, an elderly Scot laird, had an ancient valet named Gabriel, whose petulance and license of speech went so far as to be intolerable. One day at dinner Gabriel took the liberty of calling something which his master said "a great lee."

"Weel," said the laird, really offended and rising from the table, "this will do no longer. We must part at last."

"Hout, tout!" replied Gabriel, pressing his master into the chair. "Whatur wad her honor be better than in yer ain hoose?"

KANSAS CITY STOCK MARKET.

Kansas City Stock Yards, April 4.—As predicted at the close of last week, repair work was started today on the break of 25 to 50 cents on cattle effective then. Receipts here are 9,000 head, which was a substantial reduction from last Monday, and offerings at the five leading western markets were 14,000 less today than a week ago. This was enough to reverse the bearish situation, and advances were 10 to 15 cents on all classes. Veal calves were an exception and sold 50c lower.

No choice steers were here today, and the top of $9.10 does not represent the full strength of the market. Middle class natives sold at $8.40 to $8.80, and the restricted supply of western fed steers, possibly 25 cars, sold at $8.65 to $8.85, weights mostly under 1,200 pounds. The supply today had a rather small proportion of beef steers, but contained a fair number of cows and butcher grades, which sold strong to 15c higher, best cows and bulls worth up to $8, yearling heifers $9.50.

Stocker and feeder receipts were liberal and prices were 10 to 15 cents above the close last week, but not quite as high as on last Monday. Choice heavy feeders sold at $8.50, and stock steers ranged from $7.25 to $8.25. A feature sale was breeding heifer calves at $9.75. Action of the general cattle market today confirms the opinion that the situation is well grounded, and that the available supply for the next thirty or 60 days can be handled at firm prices.

Hogs started out 15 to 20c higher this morning, and improved through the session, selling 25 to 30c higher at the best time, receipts 7,000 head. Top price was $9.70, bulk of sales $9.35 to $9.65, light hogs up to $9.60. The sharp advance today only lacked 10c of eliminating the entire break of last week, and suggests that said break was forced and not a true indication of legitimate market conditions.

Rather liberal receipts of hogs are expected at the markets during April, although the supply at the five markets dropped off 26,000 head today as compared with a week ago, and the bullish situation has doubtless caused many gilts to be put in the brood sow class. Lambs and sheep sold slowly today, and prices are 15 to 25c lower, the market about 50 cents under a week ago, receipts 9,000 head. Killers have given buyers positive orders to reduce mutton cost, based on depressed outlet.

On the other hand, available supply for the next month or six weeks is known to be light, and a return to stronger prices may be expected. Best lambs sold at $11 and $11.05 today, and fat ewes of choice quality would bring around $8.25, Texas clipped wethers $7.25, clipped fat goats $5.50, clipped brushers $5.00.

NELSON RELIC LONG IN PAWN.

$5,000 Miniature Found on Taxi Driver. Possession a Mystery.

London.—The London police are trying to trace the ownership of a superbly executed miniature of Lord Nelson, with plaitings of Lady Hamilton's hair, valued at more than $5,000, found on a taxi chauffeur charged with being in unlawful possession of property supposed to have been stolen.

The Nelson relic had been in pawn for $5 since September, 1912, and the taxi man went to redeem it. It was then discovered that it was worth a large sum and that the hair in it was that of Lady Hamilton. The taxi man said it was given to his wife on her marriage, but the police were not satisfied with the story and arrested him.

FIRST CHICKENS ARE BEST

Practically Everything to Be Gained and Nothing Lost by Setting Hens Now.

There is practically everything to be gained and nothing to be lost by setting hens as soon as possible now. The chicks will thrive much better during the cooler weather and the hen should be spared from setting during the warmer weather. The first young chickens marketed always bring the best prices, and the early hatched pullets will mature early enough to lay next fall, which is not true of the later ones. Winter eggs depend partly on early hatching.

Select a healthy hen and try her for a day or two on the nest before risking valuable eggs under her. An odd number of eggs—usually eleven, thirteen or fifteen—should be used, particularly in cool weather as they lie in a more nearly perfect circle.

As soon as the hen becomes broody make a nest for her in a separate hatching room or a place where the other hens will not have a chance to disturb her. The nest should be sixteen or eighteen inches square and at least eight inches deep, depending somewhat upon the size of the hen, but it must be roomy. In nature it would be placed on the ground, and if this is not possible in the poultry house a large sod should be placed in the bottom of the nest and then covered with straw to help keep the eggs from drying out too rapidly.

Either allow the hen to leave the nest for food and water whenever she wishes or remove her once a day for that purpose.

Lice should be controlled by dusting the hen with insect powder at the beginning and again ten days later. It is a good plan to rub a bit of blue ointment about the size of a pea into the skin beneath the vent and to rub a little more into the feathers on the under side of the wing at hatching time. This is partly rubbed off on the chicks and helps keep the lice away.

Remove the chicks as rapidly as hatched and later return them all together to the hen for brooding, but be careful that they are not chilled while away from the mother.

E. T. Bailey and son Glenn of Elmo are business visitors here today.

DRAW LOTS TO PREACH.

White Plains Pastors Try New Way of Exchanging Pulpits.

White Plains, N. Y.—"We had the time of our lives," said the Rev. William Dana Street, pastor of the Ridgeview Avenue Congregational church and one of the six ministers here who filled pulpits that were assigned to them by drawing lots. Sealed envelopes containing the names of the churches were put in a hat, and each minister drew one.

"None of us knew which church he had drawn," said Mr. Street, "until a couple of days after when we opened the envelopes."

The Rev. Chaellis E. Nichols, pastor of the First Baptist church, exchanged with the Rev. Ernest L. Walz, pastor of the Chatterton Hill Congregational church; the Rev. Herbert E. Wright, pastor of the Memorial M. E. church, the largest Protestant church here, exchanged with the Rev. David W. De Forest of St. Paul's M. E. Protestant church, one of the smallest churches.

K. C. CHIEF SUSPENDED.

Police Board Disproves of Distribution of Polls Officers.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Kansas City, April 4.—The board of police commissioners late yesterday suspended H. W. Hamill, chief of police, for one day only, and placed Thomas J. Flahive, captain of police, in his place. The suspension, which is effective only until Wednesday morning, followed a disagreement regarding the assignment of police officers for duty during tomorrow's municipal election.

The campaign that closed tonight has been the most spirited in many years. Mayor Henry L. Jost, Democrat, who already has served four years, is being opposed by George H. Edwards, Republican. Edwards' candidacy has the indorsement of the non-partisan and Progressive parties. He is pledged to a simplified form of city government.

Carl Marxer has been the guest of Frank Cummins several days, enroute from his home in Des Moines to Atchison, Kan., where he is attending school.

The Lily is a Simple Cream Separator

IF you ever owned a cream separator before you knew the Lily, you will appreciate Lily simplicity. It used to be tighten this, and move that —adjustments that you never felt quite safe in making yourself. Although even a wasteful separator was much better than hand skimming, you were far from satisfied.

Most of those adjustments are now done away with. There is only one place where wear affects the work of the Lily and that is on the hardened steel point that carries the weight of the whirling bowl. And since this point is made of finest tool steel, tempered like a fine razor, you can see that the adjusting will not take much of your time.

Go to the dealer and see this feature and the many others —the simple splash oiling system, the easy operation, the ease of cleaning. The Lily is a real cream separator.

DON'T NEGLECT KIDNEYS

Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Prescription, Overcomes Kidney Trouble.

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

The kidneys should receive some assistance when needed. We take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich, heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying bladder troubles, smarting or burning, brickdust or sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism, maybe weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. There is nothing else like it. It is Dr. Kilmer's prescription used in private practice and it is sure to benefit you. Get a bottle from your druggist.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Maryville Daily Democrat-Forum.

DRY AND FOR ROOSEVELT

TWO BIGGEST THINGS IN STATE MOOSE MEET.

Near Riot in St. Louis Delegation Over Resolution—The Delegates and Alternates.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Kansas City, April 4.—The Missouri state convention of the Progressive party met here yesterday, elected forty delegates and alternates to the national party convention at Chicago this summer and adopted resolutions favoring Theodore Roosevelt for president, and declaring for nation-wide prohibition. The delegates to the Chicago convention were instructed "to vote first, last and all of the time" for Roosevelt for the presidency.

The all-day convention was marked by complete harmony, except in the closing hours, when a minority of the resolutions committee reported unfavorably on the prohibition plank. The minority was voted down by a majority of 532 to 194, and the plank carried, but not until Rev. J. L. Brandt, a member of the St. Louis delegation, had been saved from assault by another delegate through intervention of bystanders. The St. Louis delegation, through the unit rule, cast its 114 votes solidly against the prohibition platform, although Judge A. D. Nortoni and Dr. Brandt, both members, protested strenuously. The votes of the Kansas City delegation of ninety-five were cast solidly for the resolution.

The four delegates at large to the Chicago convention are: J. R. Kirkwood, Kansas City; Judge Nortoni, George W. Schweer of Windsor and Arthur M. Hyde of Princeton. The alternates are Dr. Charles Geiger, St. Joseph; C. O. Nations, Flat River; Paul Janis, St. Louis, and Paul A. Ewart, Joplin.

Thirty-six other delegates were named from the congressional districts, St. Louis and Kansas City each having four instead of two, as was the number for the other sixteen districts. Presidential electors also were named. The permanent chairman of the convention was R. D. Andrews of Dallas county, with L. A. Ellis of Kansas City as secretary.

Resolutions also were adopted declaring for equal suffrage and for military preparedness.

The delegates to the national convention from the fourth congressional district are: Delegates, Charles E. Branson, St. Joseph; John Hart, Holt county. Alternates, T. F. Montgomery, Andrew county; Thomas Fleming, Nodaway county. Presidential elector, Dr. J. J. Wisser, St. Joseph.

Mrs. A. W. Noble of Okemah, Okla., and grandson, George Noble, arrived yesterday and are the guests of Mrs. J. E. Stewart.

NOTICE TO ODD FELLOWS.

Odd Fellows be present at Tuesday night's meeting. Special degree work will be held. White Cloud Lodge, No. 92.
